

Pejman Haft

Product designer working across enterprise software, CRM, analytics, and AI-assisted workflows.

PROFILE

I design enterprise products for moments when the system knows a lot, but the person using it still needs a clear answer. My work spans CRM data, analytics, automation, and AI-assisted decisions, making complex workflows easier to understand and trust.

EXPERIENCE

LEAD UX DESIGNER

2024 – Present

SugarAI / SugarCRM, San Francisco, CA

- Lead design for SugarAI, turning uncertain AI capabilities into CRM workflows people can understand, question, and trust.
- Shape how AI insights, summaries, and recommendations appear in the product, with clear signals about what the system is doing and why.
- Work with product, engineering, data, and design partners to decide where AI is useful, move concepts into shipped workflows, and strengthen the work through critique.

FOUNDER & CREATIVE DIRECTOR

2026 – Present

Puroresu Project, Independent

- Founded a research-driven digital brand and archive that makes Japanese professional wrestling history easier to explore and understand.
- Lead brand direction, research, information architecture, UX/UI, editorial systems, and front-end development across an archive of wrestlers, matches, venues, timelines, and cultural history.
- Grew the project to 206k Instagram content views, 71k accounts reached, and 15k website page views by connecting editorial storytelling, social content, and archive exploration.
